

ROBERT WHITTINGTON

Robert Whittington brings many years of leadership experience across industries. While leading the Information Technology function, his role often involves rationalizing and focusing technology around broader strategy goals.

Rob has served in corporate executive roles as Chief Information Officer at Wendy's International and at WorkflowOne, a national print manufacturing company.

Rob also brings many years of experience in consulting roles related to technology in the retail industry. His consulting experience includes over 17 years with Ernst & Young, where he was a partner in the Retail and Consumer Products Practice. His clients have included such organizations as Farmland Industries, McDonald's, Albertsons, Walgreens, Sears, Dayton Hudson, and the United Kingdom government.

Rob has been teaching selected courses in Fisher College of Business since 2011. He has a BA from Wheaton College and an MBA from the Booth School of Business at University of Chicago.
